Laubrass Inc. Partners with StyleTap Inc. to Provide UmtPlus™ Work Measurement Software for Pocket PC

Montreal, Canada, February 15, 2006

Laubrass Inc., a leading provider of software for work measurement, today announces a technology alliance with StyleTap Inc., to provide Pocket PC support for the UmtPlus™ software platform.

“Laubrass has long been recognized as a leader in handheld work measurement software, but until now it has only been available for use on Palm OS® devices,” comments Charles Brassard, President and Founder of Laubrass Inc. “The StyleTap® Platform for Windows Mobile™-based Pocket PCs allows our customers to choose from a wider range of handheld devices, while still maintaining the same look-and-feel that UmtPlus™ users are accustomed to.”

“StyleTap has helped Laubrass to reach a large new market of devices quickly and with minimal additional expense,” said Gregory Sokoloff, CEO of StyleTap Inc. “StyleTap Platform is a boon to the large community of handheld software developers who need to address new device markets, but do not want to rewrite their software. Laubrass has shown just how well this can work, even with an application as sophisticated and rich as UmtPlus™.”

Free trial versions the newest version of UmtPlus™ for Windows Mobile are available at www.laubrass.com. StyleTap® Platform is available at www.styletap.com.

About StyleTap Inc.

Founded in 2000, StyleTap Inc. is a privately held Canadian software company based on the idea that the same application software should run on many different kinds of handhelds, regardless of operating system. In April 2005, StyleTap released the preview version of StyleTap® Platform for Windows Mobile™, which provides a robust, high performance platform to run the thousands of software applications that were originally designed for the Palm OS® on Windows Mobile devices.

About Laubrass:
